Slav Lines Waver Northwest of Warsaw and Bitter Fighting Continues Along Great Front With Enormous Losses—Hope Centers on Contest for Lublin-Chelm Railroad—Austrians Continue Advance—Italy and Turkey at Breaking Point—Anniversary of Austrian Ultimatum to Serbia, Causing the War.

London, July 23.—The strength of the outlying defenses of Warsaw appears to have checked, for the time at least, the impetuosity of the Teutonic drive upon the Polish capital.

Driven back on the fortress of Ivangorod, to the southeast of the city, the Russian line still is maintained at that point, so far as the latest official reports show. It is wavering along the curving front, extending northward around the city.

Berlin claims it has not yet been broken; while from the fortress of Novo Georgievsk, along the line of the Narew to the north, the Russians are battling desperately against the surging German tide.

To the southeast, the great army of Field Marshal von Mackensen is still engaged in a mighty thrust for the strategic Lublin-Chelm railroad line. Both official and unofficial accounts agree that the fighting here is desperate, and that the issue has not yet been decided.

On nearly all the other fronts, the Russians, while fighting hard, are falling back, statements from the various capitals of the belligerents indicate.

British observers do not believe the fortress of Ivangorod has been completely invested, as reported yesterday. One of the most hopeful order whereby three men were killed. Features of the campaign for the allied and scores injured. Crowds gathered in the streets leading to the works, as usual, to discuss the situation, but no threatening move was made. Desultory firing occurred during the night, but police say this was due to false alarm among the guards.

The sheriff said today he believed there would be no need of troops. The fact that the funeral of one of the victims of the riots was to be held today, and also that this is pay day at the plants, gave authorities some concern. It was thought the men might go to the plant to collect wages and trouble might follow.

New York, July 23.—Fourteen of the injured from the riots yesterday are in the hospital with severe wounds. The doctors say two of them will die. The two federal conciliators have begun their work of trying to settle the strike.

BEGG NEW CHAIRMAN

Columbus, July 23.—John Begg, of Columbus Grove, was elected chairman of the new state board of agriculture today, at its first meeting. The election of a secretary, who is to receive $4,000 a year, was deferred until a session later today.

At that time the four active candidates for the position of secretary were to be given an opportunity to appear in person before the board and present their qualifications.

Renick W. Dunlap, of Kingston, former dairy and food commissioner, was said to be favored strongly. Others who were prepared to plead for themselves were Dr. H. M. Brown, of Hillsboro; W. W. Watson, of Youngstown, and Chas. McIntyre, of Columbus, chief agriculturist for the board of administration.

Governor Willis called the members into his private office before their meeting today, and told them he had no preference for the secretaryship.

UNITED STATES RESTS
HER CASE FOR PRESENT

Ambassador Gerard Delivers Note to German Foreign Office Early Today and Full Note Will Be Published Friday Morning—Bernstorff Thinks German People Will Not Be Displeased—Modification of Submarine Attacks Pleases All Civilized Nations, It Is Pointed Out

By Associated Press

Berlin, via London, July 23.—The new American note to Germany reached here during the night, and was delivered to the Foreign Office by Ambassador Gerard at 1:12 o'clock this afternoon.

Washington, July 23.—With the delivery today, by Ambassador Gerard, to the Foreign Office in Berlin, of the new American note, warning Germany that the loss of American lives through further violation of neutral rights would be regarded as "unfriendly," the United States rests its case, for the present at least. The note will be given out here late today for publication tomorrow morning.

Officials of the Washington government turned expectantly toward Berlin for some indication from official quarters there, as to the communication. Until such information is at hand, the next diplomatic move of the United States will not be decided upon.

CHAOS IN MEXICO
GROWING APACE

By Associated Press

Washington, July 23.—The Mexican situation again came to the forefront today with a conference between President Wilson and high officials of the American Red Cross, who have virtually abandoned their campaign for the relief of non-combatants in the southern republic because of the chaotic conditions there.

The Red Cross officials were to report the failure to get the various leaders in Mexico to facilitate the work of feeding the starving civilian population. They were to tell the president that conditions were even worse than when he called up the leaders to settle their differences.

Surprise was expressed here over the reported action of Carranza in serving notice he would not receive communications from foreign governments who have no diplomatic agents accredited to them at Vera Cruz.

Mexico City remains cut off from the outside world and military operations are cloaked in mystery. Villa and Carranza armies are believed to be fighting near Pachuca.

Washington, July 23.—President Wilson urged officials of the American Red Cross not to discontinue their efforts to relieve famine sufferers of Mexico, despite the difficult results they are encountering. He told them to keep trying to get food into the distressed sections and do the best they could.

WILSON WILL RESUME REST

By Associated Press

Washington, July 23.—President Wilson plans to leave Washington for another visit to the summer White House at Cornish, N. H., within the next 24 hours.

REDECORATING ROOMS OF
Y. M. C. A. DORMITORIES

The rooms of the Y. M. C. A. dormitories are undergoing a complete repainting and redecorating. The work began Friday.

The note is declared today to be the final word of the United States government with regard to further transgressions of its rights. Should a similar disaster as that to the Lusitania occur, it is thought President Wilson would call Congress together to consider a course of action.

Washington, July 23.—Count von Bernstorff discussed the note informally with Secretary Lansing today. The ambassador, it is understood, saw an expression that would probably be well received in Germany in the note, where it speaks of the satisfaction with which the whole world had witnessed the modification by German submarine commanders of their practices.

ANOTHER NOTE FOR KAISER

Washington, July 23.—The United States will make diplomatic inquiries of Germany regarding the submarine attack on the Cunard liner Orduna, at a time when she was bringing a score of Americans home.

A report of an investigation conducted by Customs Collector Malone at New York, presented today to the State Department, embracing affidavits of officers, crew and passengers, of the liner, contains the sworn statement of at least one American passenger that the ship was attacked without warning.

All officials refused to discuss the report or its contents. Now in possession of statements by Americans, the United States probably will ask the Berlin Foreign Office for its version of the affair and developments will depend on Berlin.

SULLIVAN
UNDER FIRE

Washington, July 23.—James M. Sullivan, American minister to the Dominican Republic, has tendered his resignation to President Wilson and it has been accepted.

Mr. Sullivan's resignation is a consequence of an investigation conducted for the State Department by Senator Phelan, of California, into the minister's fitness for his office. The findings were unfavorable to Mr. Sullivan.

Senator Phelan's report has been at the State Department, and before President Wilson, several weeks. Soon after it was received it became known that Mr. Sullivan had been asked to resign and had been given a short time to consider it.

Today's announcement was the result. The report, which will be made public next week, is understood to support many of the charges against Sullivan.

MAN HUNT ARRANGED

Denver, July 23.—Facing a crisis developing from the threatened abduction of Joseph F. Smith, head of the Mormon church in Salt Lake City, to the impenetrable passes of the Jackson Hole country in Wyoming, where a ransom of $100,000 is to be demanded for Smith's release by the three robbers who committed the holdup of 123 passengers touring Yellowstone park July 9, and who more recently exacted $6,000 ransom for the release of E. A. Empey, a wealthy cattleman living near Idaho Falls, Idaho, federal authorities of the department of justice here, under orders from Washington, decided upon extraordinary precautions for the safety of the Mormon church head and laid new plans to scour the entire west for the capture of the bandits. Federal Attorney Melrose, ordered to return from the Mexican border, arrived in Denver to arrange the bandit hunt.

ORDUNA SAILS FROM NEW YORK

New York, July 23.—The Cunarder Orduna, laden almost to capacity, or close to 11,000 tons, chiefly war material for England, sailed for Liverpool with nearly 200 passengers, including twenty-two Americans. Three first cabin passengers who had booked to sail canceled their passage, not caring to take the risk of dodging German submarines.

NO FURTHER STRIKE IN EASTERN OHIO

Bridgeport, O., July 23.—John Albin, subdistrict president of the eastern Ohio mine workers, stated that eastern Ohio operators will be given an extension of time to equip their tipples for the run of mine system, and no further strike of eastern Ohio miners will be called at this time.

CONCERT AND LECTURE WILL CLOSE CHAUTAUQUA TONIGHT

The second annual chautauqua closes tonight, and indications are of the most interesting and instructive that one of the largest crowds of the eve attractions of the entire course, chautauqua will be out to hear Senator Kenyon in his absorbing address on "Political Tendencies," and concerning South America, which he branded the land of big opportunity. The resources and possibilities in South America pass beyond comprehension, he stated, and United States now has golden opportunity to get in close touch with the several nations forming the southern portion of the Western hemisphere.

Dr. G. Whitfield Ray proved one of the most interesting and instructive of the day, and his audience was astounded in the revelation presented to them concerning South America, which he branded the land of big opportunity. The resources and possibilities in South America pass beyond comprehension, he stated, and United States now has golden opportunity to get in close touch with the several nations forming the southern portion of the Western hemisphere.

Dr. Ray is one of the big explorers of the day, and his work has done much to enlighten the people of North America regarding the people and country of South America. Thursday night Prof. McClain, chairman of the executive committee of the guarantors, announced that when the chautauqua closes tonight a promise of 600 tickets must be in the hands of the committee if another chautauqua is to be held next year, and a liberal response is expected.

Madame Grace Hall-Riheldaffer possesses a voice of rare sweetness; Signor Skibinsky is a violinist of great power and Mr. Velle proved his claim to the term of accomplished pianist—the three musicians furnishing one of the strongest programs of the course.

Regarding Sunday's meeting at Greenfield, the Greenfield Journal says:

"Next Sunday will be the big rally day for all the men's Bible classes in this and all neighboring cities. Greenfield is expecting to see thousands of enthusiastic Sunday school scholars in Chautauqua Park, participating in the union meeting to be held there. Washington C. H., Chillicothe, Hillsboro, Leesburg, in fact, all the neighboring towns within a radius of twenty-five miles are going to send representatives. A fine program has been prepared and Greenfield will make history on that memorable day. The music will be furnished by the chorus choir, Price's orchestra, with Mr. Ralph Price as director; there will also be special numbers by the visitors. This is a men's meeting but all are welcome. Don't forget the time: 2:30 p.m.

Mr. Price and his Chautauqua Chorus singers have spent much time and labor on the musical part of the program and that alone promises a rare treat, to say nothing of the talent that will respond in the addresses, or the spirit of brotherhood that will pervade this vast gathering. We give the musical program, as follows:

Jack looked at her languidly and gazed again into the fire.

"Jack?"

Jack turned listlessly.

"I think you're very rude," pouted Mabel.

Jack looked at her inquiringly.

"You haven't paid the slightest attention to me this evening," she said, drooping her shoulders dejectedly. "I hate you!"

Suddenly it occurred to Mabel that perhaps Jack was not well, and she reproached herself for her attitude toward him.

"Dear," she said contritely, running her hand through his hair, "are you ill?"

Jack leaned slightly. Mabel sighed. The front door opened, and there was a sound of heavy footsteps in the hallway. Jack was off the sofa in an instant.

"It's only father," said Mabel.

Jack barked and jumped up beside Mabel again.—Judge.

The European war may bear a blessing for the western world in the shape of closer and firmer relations between this country and South American states, notably the more distant, like Brazil, Argentina and Chile. As a rule we have cared little about those countries except to enjoy their trade. This is a time to realize the importance of studying the people themselves, their modes of life and thought—in fact, getting neighborly with them on a broader basis than merely barter and sale.

The international congress of navigation postpones meetings indefinitely on account of the war. Time enough to discuss navigation problems after an International law congress has turned up a new naval program.

The Future of the Progressives

Ex-President Roosevelt announces with characteristic bluntness and force that, in the campaign of next year he will support any Republican "that's decent."

The announcement is briefness itself, but is full of meaning. It is at once a recitation and a recognition of accomplishment of purpose and a declaration of intention for the future which points the way for Republicans and Democrats alike in framing their campaign issues and choosing their candidates.

It means that the leader of the four million voters who cast their ballots in nineteen twelve for the candidates of the Progressive party, realizes that much that the Progressive party advocated has already been brought about and much of the vice in party management of which it complained, three years ago, has been eliminated. That being true it means, unless the Republican party again makes the mistake of adopting a reactionary program and relapsing into the old rut, the progressive voters will join hands with it in the next presidential campaign.

At the same time the brief announcement of the strenuous Colonel Roosevelt should encourage the Democratic party, now in power, to so conduct itself and so frame its platform that it will be impossible for the Republican party to outrank it in progressiveness, either on its record of performance or on its declaration of principles.

Unless both of the older parties stray away in conduct and promises from the paths which the people have demanded be followed, there is not much likelihood that the third party will contend, as an organization, in the campaign next year.

The people demand progress in the interest of the human unit and they are going to have it by voting with the party promising it or if both parties fail by voting with a third party.

Both of the old parties was taught a lesson in nineteen twelve which neither should forget.

Prejudices

It would certainly be a blessed thing for the individual, for mankind collectively and for the world at large if men and women could conquer prejudices so that, instead of growing larger they would actually cease to exist.

One of the most popular lecturers in the Chautauqua, held in Washington this week, laid stress on the fact that it is only in life's hard school that prejudices can be so discarded, but that, no matter how bitter the lesson, it is a mighty good thing to have them knocked out.

There are few, if any, possessed of such perfectly balanced mentality, sufficiently broad and capable of such just judgment as to be absolutely free from prejudices.

Unconsciously, even with those possessing natural advantages in disposition and training, prejudices, now little, now big, creep in, and make impossible absolutely fair judgment.

There are people naturally capable of shedding prejudices; so narrow in view point by birth and training, so opinionated and full of the ego that they are hopeless, but with the great majority prejudices are largely due to lack of knowledge.

A fuller acquaintance with races, nationalities and customs remove large prejudices concerning our fellow men and their acts just as understandingly of the lives, purposes and characters of acquaintances and their acts, removes smaller prejudices.

So much of the misunderstanding and unkindness of this world comes from prejudices that a wider knowledge would take away.

The bigger the man in his understanding of conditions and the "whys and the wherefores," as well as in the kindly intent to judge fairly, the fewer are his prejudices.

Effect of Seamen's Law Will Be to Increase Cost of Transportation

By Former Rear Admiral FRANCIS T. BOWLES. Resigned

If you read the seamen's act, which goes into effect next fall, you will find that almost every individual item in it looks reasonable, but when you take the accumulation of restrictions placed on the owners and officers of steamships the effects of the act are almost revolutionary. My feeling is that these things, or substantially these, have come to stay, unfortunately as it is. THERE WILL BE A STEADY CONFLICT AGAINST SUCH PROVISIONS, HOWEVER, AND IT WILL LAST A LONG TIME. IN THE MEANTIME THERE WILL BE AN INCREASE IN THE COST OF WATER TRANSPORTATION EVERYWHERE.

As soon as a ship comes into a foreign port she is subject to the local laws of that port, and this fact can't be evaded. The confusion which will result from this act will be enormous, especially through the provision that sailors on any ship coming into our ports may desert. This will mean that the masters of ships trading with the United States will have to pay American wages to their crews in order to keep them or ship new ones.

Poetry For Today

"PEACE."

Were half the power that fills the world with terror,
Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts,
Given to redeem the human mind from error
There were no need of arsenals and forts.

The warrior's name would be a name abhorred!
And every nation that should lift again

Its hand against a brother, on its forehead
Would wear for evermore the curse of Cain.

Down the dark future, through long generations.

The echoing sounds grow fainter and then cease;
And like a bell, with solemn sweet vibrations.

I hear once more the voice of Christ say "Peace!"

Peace! and no longer from its brazen portals

The blast of war's great organ shakes the skies!

But, beautiful as songs of the immortals

The holy melodies of love arise.

—Henry W. Longfellow.

TWO ORDINANCES STOPPED ON WAY THROUGH COUNCIL

Action Delayed on Issuance of Bonds for Improvements Which May Not Be Made Until Next Year, and Upon Construction of Sewer on West Temple—Laborers Get Boost in Wage—Weed Patches Receive Further Attention.

The special session of the city council Thursday night was not of long duration. A number of ordinances were given attention, but Engineer Jones, of Cleveland, not being present, nothing was done regarding the city lighting.

The service committee reported that no investigation had been made of matters placed in their hands at the previous meeting, but a full report would be ready at the next regular meeting.

A blanket ordinance to issue bonds to pay the city's portion of the cost of the improvement of South Main street, Hinde street, and Yeoman

ALTERS CHECK PLEADS GUILTY

Earl F. Murray, 16, who recently altered a check on Clyde Cook, of near New Holland, was arraigned in Juvenile Court, Pickaway county, this week, and upon his plea of guilty, was given a suspended term in the Mansfield reformatory.

The check in question was raised from $18 to $25 and presented at a place of business in New Holland.

The lad must refrain from smoking cigarettes or using tobacco in any way, and must conduct himself properly or the sentence to Mansfield will be enforced. He was placed in the custody of his grandmother at Royerton. He is a son of Charles Murray, of Pickaway county.

TRIO OF NEGROES RUN OUT OF TOWN

Three rough looking negroes were picked up by Chief of Police Moore and Officer Nelson about 8 o'clock Thursday evening in a field near the Pennsylvania railroad, a short distance beyond the Lloyd elevator. They were put in jail and after examination by Mayor Coffey Friday afternoon were released and given twenty minutes to get out of town.

The negroes had been hanging around the vicinity in which they were apprehended all day, and residents of the neighborhood, suspicious of their actions, called the police.

On the $4500 East Court street improvement bonds, the Commercial Bank obtained the bonds on a bid of par, accrued interest and a premium of $10. The Providence Savings Bank of Cincinnati had a bid of par, accrued interest and premium of $7.65.

The last business before adjournment was the attention of council being called to the fact that obnoxious weeds on the John Paul lot on East Market street, had not been cut. This was ordered done by council at the last previous meeting. One councilman stated that he had been informed a "Burdock Bitters" factory was to be built on the lot, owing to a convenient supply of burdock.

It was stated that a number of other lots about the city required attention, and Rowe suggested an ordinance regulating the weed cutting. He was informed that a state law covered the case.

WINDSTORM DAMAGE GREATER THAN CYCLONE

Local insurance men, who, in settling tornado claims have opportunity of learning more accurately the extent of the damage wrought by the windstorm, say unhesitatingly that the ravages of the late twister was greater than that of the cyclone of '85.

This is due to the fact, they point out, that the path of the windstorm was much wider than that of the memorable cyclone. More than half of Fayette county was affected by the recent storm.

Claims are still coming in and will continue to for some time, insurance men say. Every day they are acquainted with damage they had not before learned of. The total wrecking of a huge barn on the

SECRETARY PATTON AS A PHYSICIAN

That Secretary Patton of the Y. M. C. A. is a physician, and has quite an appreciable clientele, came to light Friday when, for a short space of time, the official sanctum of the association building took on the appearance of an M. D.'s examination room. Three boys, affected about the feet, hands and face by thorn punctures and various camp distresses, appeared at an appointed hour and were treated by the Doctor Patton.

It seems that during the recent boys' camp Mr. Patton first became a recognized practitioner. Each night during the camp he doctored the mosquito bites, chigger stings and other ailments of the campers. The three doctored Friday were among the more seriously injured and still have a treatment or two to go through.

TEARING OUT THE AGED WATER TANK

Workmen began Friday tearing out the old D. T. & I. water tank located for years near the station close to Court street. A new tank, recently erected, has been in operation south of the city for a week or more.

The old tank comes very near being an antique. Its exact age is not known. It was formerly stationed on the spot now occupied by the new tank, and was removed from there to its later position. That was thirteen years ago, and, according to railroad men, "it was an old tank then."

The demise of the old tank will put an end to the continually ice-caked condition of the sidewalks in its vicinity during winter seasons.

T. R.'S CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

San Francisco, July 23.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt announced that Governor Hiram Johnson would be his candidate for the presidency in 1916. The announcement was made while the colonel was taking in the sights at the exposition. An enthusiast stepped from the crowd and exclaimed: "Tell us, colonel, who is your choice for president next year?" Roosevelt raised his hat and, pointing to Governor Johnson, who was with him, said: "Here is the man. Johnson is the next president."

In the colonel's party at the time were Mrs. Roosevelt, Governor and Mrs. Johnson, Arthur Arlett, Theodore Hardee and John McGrath, the Roosevelt secretary.

COMMUNICATION LINES WITH WARSZAWA ARE CUT

Germans Steadily Closing In On Polish Capital.

RUSS ARMY IN GREAT PERIL

Ivangorod, One of the Strongest Fortified Towns Southwest of Warsaw, Now Closely Invested—Berlin Reports Capture of Many Thousands of Russian Troops—Two Movements Causing Anxiety in London.

London, July 23.—The German forces are closing in steadily on Warsaw, while Germans to the north and Austro-Hungarians to the south are moving forward to cut off the railway communications of that capital with interior Russia, according to the official statement made public by the army administration at Berlin. Ivangorod, one of the strongest fortified towns to the southeast, is closely invested. That means another communicating railway of Warsaw is cut off, leaving but two, one of which leads to Petrograd, and is threatened by the German advance towards Wilna.

Berlin also reports the capture of many thousands of Russian troops. Although the Germans extended their lines from Blonie to the west of Warsaw, and therefore have a larger front sixteen miles from the capital, the significant developments in the Austro-German offensive were: First, the investing of Ivangorod, thus threatening or cutting the railway communications between Warsaw and Moscow; second, the German advance between Miriampol and Kovno, on the Niemen, developing an advance against Wilna, fifty miles to the east, through which runs the railroad between Warsaw and Petrograd.

These two movements are regarded with far greater anxiety in London than the appearance of the German forces before the fortified river cities of Warsaw and Petrograd. The Argonne and the Vosges still are the scenes of the severe fighting in the west. The accounts from the opposing sides are as contradictory as ever, but it would appear that the French are the aggressors in the Vosges and have made some progress and that the Germans have offset this by a partially successful offensive in the Argonne.

The Italians continue their attacks along the Isonzo. The battle of Gorizia and the Carso plateau is assuming great proportions.

of Ossowice, Lomza, Pultusk or Novo Georgievsk, or the Blonie line on the west or the Grojec advance on the south. It is fair to assume from the Berlin statement that the Ivangorod railway is already cut off. Once the other road goes and Warsaw must stand a siege, which can have but one outcome. Cut off from their supplies, hampered with nearly 1,000,000 non-combatants, powerless to receive aid from the east, the position of the Russian forces would be most perilous, and furthermore this pressure could be maintained by fewer troops than have been used in the offensive. Many army corps could be spared from the east for the west.

May Burn Warsaw.

The enveloping movements mentioned in the foregoing were supplemented by further advances in Courland, and although no direct attack was made upon Riga, the Germans still continue to straighten out their lines in that district without developing an apparent objective.

A Berlin dispatch says that Warsaw is to be set in flames by the Russians and destroyed when Von Hindenburg's forces penetrate the last lines of defense before the city. The Russians already have begun devastating villages in the path of their retreat both north and west of Warsaw and in the Riga region to the north.

By imperial ukase special services were held in all the orthodox churches in Russia, and one mighty unified plea was sent up for the succor of Russia's sorely pressed armies. For the first time the populace has been made acquainted with the gravity of the situation in Poland and urged to invoke divine intercession to stem the Teutonic avalanche.

The Argonne and the Vosges still are the scenes of the severe fighting in the west. The accounts from the opposing sides are as contradictory as ever, but it would appear that the French are the aggressors in the Vosges and have made some progress and that the Germans have offset this by a partially successful offensive in the Argonne.

The Italians continue their attacks along the Isonzo. The battle of Gorizia and the Carso plateau is assuming great proportions.

STRIKERS' DEMANDS PRESENTED

Efforts Made to Settle the Big Strike at Bayonne.

New York, July 23.—A committee of the men on strike in various departments of the Tidewater oil works at Bayonne, N. J., announced after a two-hour conference with the commissioners of the city that they would meet the commissioners again this evening and present their demands to the company in the hope that there might be a peaceable settlement of the strike.

Some of the members of the committee were optimistic in their expressions as to the probable outcome of the meeting with the commissioners.

Governor Fielder dispatched Adjutant General Sadler to Bayonne to determine whether the situation could be handled by Sheriff Kinkead and his aides, or whether state troops would be needed to quiet the disorder.

Two men were killed and a score wounded in two battles between strikers and guards. The latter, from within the company's walls, fired thousands of rounds of ammunition across one of the main thoroughfares. Sheriff Eugene Kinkead and his party were fired on by guards while the sheriff was trying to get the mob of strikers to withdraw.

At the request of Sheriff Kinkead of Jersey City, Acting Secretary of Labor Densmore at Washington appointed John A. Moffit of Jersey City and James A. Smyth of Pennsylvania to act as conciliators in the trouble at Bayonne.

The strikers lost two of their number by bullets fired by guards of the Tidewater plant. Both men were shot dead. In addition, eight other strikers were hurt by bullets and three of them may die. In the fire aimed by the guards at the crowds, composed of 150 men, non-combatants and women and children one girl, two boys and several bystanders were hurt. Three guards of the company were hurt. The strikers were enraged over the death and the wounding of their associates. They insisted that they were fired upon without cause.

PASSENGER TRAIN JUMPS THE TRACK

New Philadelphia, July 23.—Engineer Samuel Javens, forty-eight, was fatally injured, two persons were slightly bruised and the lives of 100 other passengers were put in danger when a passenger train on the Kline branch of the Pennsylvania railroad jumped the track two miles east of New Philadelphia. The locomotive overturned.

GRAIN SHIPS ARE CRIPPLED

New York, July 23.—An officer of the British ship Harpacticus, now at the Bush terminal docks, said that while his ship was lying up at Gibraltar a short time ago, he saw the British dreadnaught Queen Elizabeth and the British battle cruisers Invincible and Invincible in the dry docks being repaired. This means that three of Great Britain's mightiest warships were so badly crippled in the Dardanelles campaign that they were forced to withdraw. It has been some time since any of the three ships named have been mentioned in the dispatches respecting the Dardanelles operations.

CARRANZA MUST EVACUATE NACO

Receives Sharp Representations
From United States.

VIOLATES TOWN'S NEUTRALITY

First Chief Called Upon by State Department to Withdraw His Troops From the Border Community. Carranza Won't Deal With Governments Which Have No Diplomatic Agents at Vera Cruz.

Washington, July 23.—An issue has been joined between the United States and the Carranza faction in Mexico that may force the hands of this government in its relations with the republic south of the border.

Carranza has violated the neutrality of Naco, just across the line from Nogales, Ariz., and sharp representations have been sent to him in which he has been called upon to withdraw his troops from that town. If Carranza should refuse, or fail to act in accordance with this injunction, it would be incumbent on the United States either to enforce the neutrality of Naco by the use of troops, or resort to other measures that might lead to immediate serious consequences.

There is one way that the administration could punish Carranza without a resort to arms if he repudiated the agreement under which Naco's neutrality was guaranteed by the Mexican factions at the instance of the United States. This would be by shutting off his supply of arms and ammunition from the United States. Such action may be taken by the president under the authority of a resolution passed by congress in 1913.

Naco was made a neutral town because the fighting in the neighborhood menaced American life and property in Nogales.

Diplomatic advices from Mexico stated that Carranza had given notice that he would not receive commissions from or transact business with foreign governments which have no diplomatic agents accredited to his government at Vera Cruz. Enforcement of such an order practically would cut off the Carranza government from further communication with all the foreign nations which have ministers resident in Mexico City. It would rot, according to the information received, sever his informal relations with the United States government, as Carranza is understood to regard Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz as a properly accredited agent.

In official quarters the opinion prevails that the military situation in Mexico just at this time is too uncertain for any new step on the part of the United States, and the outcome of approaching conflicts between Carranza and Villa forces in central Mexico is being awaited with considerable interest.

HOSPITAL SITE COMMISSIONERS VIEW GROUNDS

The inter-county district hospital site commission was in the city again today, and was busy being taken around to see the various sites which have been brought forward since its last visit here, and looking over once more some of the sites offered at its previous meeting here.

In some instances the scope of the site commission seems to have been misinterpreted, for large and valuable tracts of land are being urged on the commission, whereas, taken in the aggregate, the instructions of the commission are to select a site which will be suitable and can be equipped at something near $25,000.

The idea is to get a piece of high dry ground, which is not too far from railway communication, one which will have sufficient acreage to help sustain the institution, and one which will lend itself to the peculiar uses to which it is to be devoted.

The general plan is to have an administration building and then erect cottages for the patients, this being considered more in line with modern ideas of sanitation in combating the disease than a large central hospital, so this at once precludes the idea of having some health resort in some of the counties, including Ross county, sold to the commission.

Many most excellent sites have been offered to the commission, and undoubtedly their decision and recommendation will be forthcoming to the general district hospital commission in a short time. — Chillicothe Gazette.

MAN HUNT ARRANGED

Denver, July 23.—Facing a crisis developing from the threatened abduction of Joseph F. Smith, head of the Mormon church in Salt Lake City, to the impenetrable passes of the Jackson Hole country in Wyoming, where a ransom of $100,000 is to be demanded for Smith's release by the three robbers who committed the holdup of 123 passengers touring Yellowstone park July 9, and who more recently exacted $6,000 ransom for the release of E. A. Empey, a wealthy cattleman living near Idaho Falls, Idaho, federal authorities of the department of justice here, under orders from Washington, decided upon extraordinary precautions for the safety of the Mormon church head and laid new plans to scour the entire west for the capture of the bandits. Federal Attorney Melrose, ordered to return from the Mexican border, arrived in Denver to arrange the bandit hunt.

CONCERT AND LECTURE WILL CLOSE CHAUTAUQUA TONIGHT

The second annual chautauqua closer tonight, and indications are that one of the largest crowds of the chautauqua will be out to hear Senator Kenyon in his absorbing address on "Political Tendencies," and the 45 minute concert of the L. A. C. Women's Orchestra.

Friday afternoon an unusually large audience enjoyed the delightful two-hour concert given by the Lyceum Arts Conservatory Orchestra.

The Thursday night program was up to the high standard of the entire course, and those who love and know good music enjoyed every minute with the splendid Riheladaffer-Skibinsky company, which is composed of three really high class artists.

Madame Grace Hall-Riheladaffer possesses a voice of rare sweetness; Signor Skibinsky is a violinist of great power and Mr. Velle proved his claim to the term of accomplished pianist—the three musicians furnishing one of the strongest programs of the course.

MUSICAL TREAT AT SUNDAY'S MEETING

Regarding Sunday's meeting at Greenfield, the Greenfield Journal says:

"Next Sunday will be the big rally day for all the men's Bible classes in this and all neighboring cities. Greenfield is expecting to see thousands of enthusiastic Sunday school scholars in Chautauqua Park, participating in the union meeting to be held there. Washington C. H., Chillicothe, Hillsboro, Leesburg, in fact, all the neighboring towns within a radius of twenty-five miles are going to send representatives. A fine program has been prepared and Greenfield will make history on that memorable day. The music will be furnished by the chorus choir, Price's orchestra, with Mr. Ralph Price as director; there will also be special numbers by the visitors. This is a men's meeting but all are welcome. Don't forget the time: 2:30 p. m.

Mr. Price and his Chautauqua Chorus singers have spent much time and labor on the musical part of the program and that alone promises a rare treat, to say nothing of the talent that will respond in the addresses, or the spirit of brotherhood that will pervade this vast gathering. We give the musical program, as follows:

Suddenly it occurred to Mabel that perhaps Jack was not well, and she reproached herself for her attitude toward him.

"Dear," she said contritely, running her hand through his hair, "are you ill?"

Jack leaned slightly. Mabel sighed. The front door opened, and there was a sound of heavy footsteps in the hallway. Jack was off the sofa in an instant.

The European war may bear a blessing for the western world in the shape of closer and firmer relations between this country and South American states, notably the more distant, like Brazil, Argentina and Chile. As a rule we have cared little about those countries except to enjoy their trade. This is time to realize the importance of studying the people themselves, their modes of life and thought—in fact, getting neighborly with them on a broader basis than merely barter and sale.

The Future of the Progressives

Ex-President Roosevelt announces with characteristic bluntness and force that, in the campaign of next year he will support any Republican "that's decent."

The announcement is briefness itself, but is full of meaning. It is at once a recitation and a recognition of accomplishment of purpose and a declaration of intention for the future which points the way for Republicans and Democrats alike in framing their campaign issues and choosing their candidates.

It means that the leader of the four million voters who cast their ballots in nineteen twelve for the candidates of the Progressive party, realizes that much that the Progressive party advocated has already been brought about and much of the vice in party management of which it complained, three years ago, has been eliminated. That being true it means, unless the Republican party again makes the mistake of adopting a reactionary program and relapsing into the old rut, the progressive voters will join hands with it in the next presidential campaign.

At the same time the brief announcement of the strenuous Colonel Roosevelt should encourage the Democratic party, now in power, to so conduct itself and so frame its platform that it will be impossible for the Republican party to outrank it in progressiveness, either on its record of performance or on its declaration of principles.

Unless both of the older parties stray away in conduct and promises from the paths which the people have demanded be followed, there is not much likelihood that the third party will contend, as an organization, in the campaign next year.

The people demand progress in the interest of the human unit and they are going to have it by voting with the party promising it or if both parties fail by voting with a third party.

Both of the old parties was taught a lesson in nineteen twelve which neither should forget.

Prejudices

It would certainly be a blessed thing for the individual, for mankind collectively and for the world at large if men and women could conquer prejudices so that, instead of growing larger they would actually cease to exist.

One of the most popular lecturers in the Chautauqua, held in Washington this week, laid stress on the fact that it is only in life's hard school that prejudices can be so discarded, but that, no matter how bitter the lesson, it is a mighty good thing to have them knocked out.

There are few, if any, possessed of such perfectly balanced mentality, sufficiently broad and capable of such just judgment as to be absolutely free from prejudices.

Unconsciously, even with those possessing natural advantages in disposition and training, prejudices, now little, now big, creep in, and make impossible absolutely fair judgment.

There are people naturally capable of shedding prejudices; so narrow in view point by birth and training, so opinionated and full of the ego that they are hopeless, but with the great majority prejudices are largely due to lack of knowledge.

A fuller acquaintance with races, nationalities and customs remove large prejudices concerning our fellow men and their acts just as understandingly of the lives, purposes and characters of acquaintances and their acts, removes smaller prejudices.

So much of the misunderstanding and unkindness of this world comes from prejudices that a wider knowledge would take away.

The bigger the man in his understanding of conditions and the "whys and the wherefores," as well as in the kindly intent to judge fairly, the fewer are his prejudices.

Effect of Seamen's Law Will Be to Increase Cost of Transportation

By Former Rear Admiral FRANCIS T. BOWLES, Resigned

If you read the seamen's act, which goes into effect next fall, you will find that almost every individual item in it looks reasonable, but when you take the accumulation of restrictions placed on the owners and officers of steamships the effects of the act are almost revolutionary. My feeling is that these things, or substantially these, have come to stay, unfortunate as it is. THERE WILL BE A STEADY CONFLICT AGAINST SUCH PROVISIONS, HOWEVER, AND IT WILL LAST A LONG TIME. IN THE MEANTIME THERE WILL BE AN INCREASE IN THE COST OF WATER TRANSPORTATION EVERYWHERE.

As soon as a ship comes into a foreign port she is subject to the local laws of that port, and this fact can't be evaded. The confusion which will result from this act will be enormous, especially through the provision that sailors on any ship coming into our ports may desert. This will mean that the masters of ships trading with the United States will have to pay American wages to their crews in order to keep them or ship new ones.

Poetry For Today

"PEACE."

Were half the power that fills the world with terror,
Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts,
Given to redeem the human mind from error
There were no need of arsenals and forts.

The warrior's name would be a name abhorred!
And every nation that should lift its hand against a brother, on its forehead
Would wear for evermore the curse of Cain.

Down the dark future, through long generations,

The echoing sounds grow fainter and then cease;
And like a bell, with solemn sweet vibrations,

I hear once more the voice of Christ say "Peace!"

Peace! and no longer from its brazen portals

The blast of war's great organ shakes the skies!

But, beautiful as songs of the immortals

The holy melodies of love arise.

—Henry W. Longfellow.

What She Said.

"What did your wife say to you when you got home from the poker game this morning?" asked Batch.

"Are you going to be busy for the rest of the day?" asked Benedict.

"Yes," replied Batch.

"Well," replied Benedict, "some day when you can give me your undivided attention for about seven hours I'll repeat part of what she said."

AMERICAN NOTE NOW IN BERLIN

Washington Discussing Possibilities of the Situation.

OFFICIALS DISPLAYING ANXIETY

Further Attack on American Life Would Put an End to Diplomatic Relations Between the Two Countries—Germany May Answer New Note With Additional Arguments and Suggestions.

Washington, July 23.—Now that the new American note to Germany has reached Berlin, the most earnest thought is being given to the possibilities of the situation. Such information as has come to the attention of the officials here about the state of the public mind in Germany has led them to look to Berlin with some anxiety.

The note does not necessarily call for a reply by the German government. It is thought possible, though, that Germany may answer with arguments and suggestions which will not itself expect the United States to accept. There is also the possibility, though not regarded as probable, that the Berlin government will decide to answer the president's demands and offer some real concessions.

But what is causing real anxiety is the fact that Germany may any day make an attack on American life and abruptly put an end to the possibility of any further diplomatic representations. While the note itself does not contain any intimation on what course this government will pursue in case Germany makes such an attack in the face of the American warning that it will be regarded as "an unfriendly act," it is believed here that a severance of diplomatic relations and the summoning of congress will follow.

Recent reports from Berlin have caused many here to feel that there is reason for anxiety that the latest note from Washington may arouse anger among the German people, leading to some reckless action.

It has been noted that the Germans persist in regarding reports of the unfavorable verdict on their note of July 8 as fabrications inspired by the British. It has been observed that the German press is expressing supreme confidence in the acceptance by the United States of the proposals submitted by Germany in her last note and also that the United States certainly will say no more about its demands that Americans be permitted to travel the high seas in safety.

While there is every reason to believe that the German ambassador has kept his government fully advised as to what to expect in this note, no doubt exists here that the latest communication is far from what the German people generally are expecting.

Ambassador Gerard delivered the note to the German foreign office to-day.

Home Merchants have it, no doubt.

TWO ORDINANCES STOPPED
ON WAY THROUGH COUNCIL

Action Delayed on Issuance of Bonds for Improvements Which May Not Be Made Until Next Year, and Upon Construction of Sewer on West Temple—Laborers Get Boost in Wage—Weed Patches Receive Further Attention.

The special session of the city council Thursday night was not of long duration. A number of ordinances were given attention, but Engineer Jones, of Cleveland, not being present, nothing was done regarding the city lighting.

The service committee reported that no investigation had been made of matters placed in their hands at the previous meeting, but a full report would be ready at the next regular meeting.

A blanket ordinance to issue bonds to pay the city's portion of the cost of the improvement of South Main street, Hinde street, and Yeoman property owner that the foot frontage with which she was charged was more than the actual frontage, was referred to the Service Director and Engineer to investigate.

An ordinance to authorize the Service Director to construct a sewer on Temple street, from Hinde to Paint creek was offered. It was stated that the Service Director had started the sewer under a previous order, but had stopped.

Service Director Gerstner said that the reason he had quit work was that Mr. Baer, of the Washington

Ice Company, had protested; that the State Board of Health had written him twice not to proceed with the work, and that imprisonment was intimated if the service director continued with the work. The order of the State Board of Health that no more sewers should be emptied into

Paint creek was what the city had bumped into in the effort to construct the sewer.

Veall, who had moved to pass the ordinance, withdrew his motion and upon motion made by him the problem was referred to the Service Committee.

Next was an ordinance fixing the wages of men employed by the Service Department. The ordinance called for the payment of $1.50 to unskilled and $2.00 per day to skilled laborers.

Under previous ordinance the amount was $15 cents per hour for unskilled and 20 cents per hour for skilled laborers, and a ten-hour day had been observed. Under the new ordinance, which was passed by unanimous vote, the men will work eight hours and draw the same wage as for the old ten-hour day.

The ordinance was termed an "emergency" measure to prevent the cutting up of public work, and effectively immediately.

On the $4500 East Court street improvement bonds, the Commercial Bank obtained the bonds on a bid of par, accrued interest and a premium of $10. The Providence Savings Bank of Cincinnati had a bid of par, accrued interest and premium of $7.65.

The last business before adjournment was the attention of council being called to the fact that obnoxious weeds on the John Paul lot on East Market street, had not been cut. This was ordered done by council at the last previous meeting. One councilman stated that he had been informed a "Burdock Bitters" factory was to be built on the lot, owing to a convenient supply of burdock.

It was stated that a number of other lots about the city required attention, and Rowe suggested an ordinance regulating the weed cutting. He was informed that a state law covered the case.

WINDSTORM DAMAGE
GREATER THAN CYCLONE

Local insurance men, who, in settling tornado claims have opportunity of learning more accurately the extent of the damage wrought by the windstorm, say unquestionably that the ravages of the late twister was greater than that of the cyclone of '85.

This is due to the fact, they point out, that the path of the windstorm that was much wider than that of the cyclone. More than half of Fayette county was affected by the recent storm.

Claims are still coming in and will continue to do so for some time, insurance men say. Every day they are acquainted with damage they had not before learned of. The total of Fayette county was affected by the recent storm.

T. R.'S CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

San Francisco, July 23.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt announced that Governor Hiram Johnson would be his candidate for the presidency in 1916. The announcement was made while the colonel was taking in the sights at the exposition. An enthusiast stepped from the crowd and exclaimed: "Tell us, colonel, who is your choice for president next year?" Roosevelt raised his hat and, pointing to Governor Johnson, who was with him, said: "Here is the man. Johnson is the next president."

In the colonel's party at the time were Mrs. Roosevelt, Governor and Mrs. Johnson, Arthur Arlett, Theodore Hardee and John McGrath, the Roosevelt secretary.

COMMUNICATION LINES WITH WARSAW ARE CUT

Germans Steadily Closing In On Polish Capital.

RUSS ARMIES IN GREAT PERIL

Ivangerod, One of the Strongest Fortified Towns Southwest of Warsaw, Now Closely Invested—Berlin Reports Capture of Many Thousands of Russian Troops—Two Movements Causing Anxiety in London.

London, July 23.—The German forces are closing in steadily on Warsaw, while Germans to the north and Austro-Hungarians to the south are moving forward to cut off the railway communications of that capital with Interior Russia, according to the official statement made public by the army administration at Berlin. Ivangerod, one of the strongest fortified towns to the southeast, is closely invested. That means another complicating railway of Warsaw is cut off, leaving but two, one of which leads to Petrograd, and is threatened by the German advance towards Wilna.

Berlin also reports the capture of many thousands of Russian troops. Although the Germans extended their lines from Blonie to the west of Warsaw, and therefore have a larger front sixteen miles from the capital, the significant developments in the Austro-German offensive were: First, the investing of Ivangerod, thus threatening or cutting the railway communications between Warsaw and Moscow; second, the German advance between Miriampol and Kovno, on the Niemen, developing an advance against Wilna, fifty miles to the east, through which runs the railroad between Warsaw and Petrograd.

These two movements are regarded with far greater anxiety in London than the appearance of the German forces before the fortified river cities of Ossowiec, Lomza, Pultusk or Novo Georgievsk, or the Blonie line on the west or the Grojed advance on the south. It is fair to assume from the Berlin statement that the Ivangerod railway is already cut off. Once the other road goes and Warsaw must stand a siege, which can have but one outcome. Cut off from their supplies, hampered with nearly 1,000,000 non-combatants, powerless to receive aid from the east, the position of the Russian forces would be most perilous, and furthermore this pressure could be maintained by fewer troops than have been used in the offensive. Many army corps could be spared from the east for the west.

May Burn Warsaw.

The enveloping movements mentioned in the foregoing were supplemented by further advances in Courland, and although no direct attack was made upon Riga, the Germans still continue to straighten out their lines in that district without developing an apparent objective.

A Berlin dispatch says that Warsaw is to be set in flames by the Russians and destroyed when Von Hindenburg's forces penetrate the last lines of defense before the city. The Russians already have begun devastating villages in the path of their retreat both north and west of Warsaw and in the Riga region to the north.

By imperial ukase special services were held in all the orthodox churches in Russia, and one mighty unified plea was sent up for the succor of Russia's sorely pressed armies. For the first time the populace has been made acquainted with the gravity of the situation in Poland and urged to invoke divine intercession to stem the Teutonic avalanche.

The Argonne and the Vosges still are the scenes of the severe fighting in the west. The accounts from the opposing sides are as contradictory as ever, but it would appear that the French are the aggressors in the Vosges and have made some progress and that the Germans have offset this by a partially successful offensive in the Argonne.

The Italians continue their attacks along the Isonzo. The battle of Gorizia and the Carso plateau is assuming great proportions.

Rosco of miners, noncombatants and women and children, one girl, two boys and several bystanders were hurt. Three guards of the company were hurt. The strikers were enraged over the death and the wounding of their associates. They insisted that they were fired upon without cause.

PASSENGER TRAIN JUMPS THE TRACK

New Philadelphia, July 23.—Engineer Samuel Javens, forty-eight, was fatally injured, two persons were slightly bruised and the lives of 100 other passengers were put in danger when a passenger train on the Klondike branch of the Pennsylvania railroad jumped the track two miles east of New Philadelphia. The locomotive overturned.

GRAIN SHIPS ARE CRIPPLED

New York, July 23.—An officer of the British ship Harpacus, now at the Busa terminal docks, said that while his ship was lying up at Gibraltar a short time ago, he saw the British dreadnaught Queen Elizabeth and the British battle cruisers Invincible and Invincible in the drydocks being repaired. This means that three of Great Britain's mightiest warships were so badly crippled in the Dardanelles campaign that they were forced to withdraw. It has been some time since any of the three ships named have been mentioned in the dispatches respecting the Dardanelles operations.

Two men were killed and a score wounded in two battles between strikers and guards. The latter, from within the company's walls, fired thousands of rounds of ammunition across one of the main thoroughfares. Sheriff Eugene Kinkead and his party were fired upon by guards while the sheriff was trying to get the mob of strikers to withdraw.

At the request of Sheriff Kinkead of Jersey City, Acting Secretary of Labor Denison, at Washington appointed John A. Moffitt of Jersey City and James A. Smyth of Pennsylvania to act as conciliators in the trouble at Bayonne.

The strikers lost two of their number by bullets fired by guards of the Tidewater plant. Both men were shot dead. In addition, eight other strikers were hurt by bullets and three of them may die. In the fire aimed by the guards at the crowds, com-

CARRANZA MUST EVACUATE NACO

Receives Sharp Representations
From United States.

VIOLATES TOWN'S NEUTRALITY

First Chief Called Upon by State Department to Withdraw His Troops From the Border Community. Carranza Won't Deal With Governments Which Have No Diplomatic Agents at Vera Cruz.

Washington, July 23.—An issue has been joined between the United States and the Carranza faction in Mexico that may force the hands of this government in its relations with the republic south of the border.

Carranza has violated the neutrality of Naco, just across the line from Nogales, Ariz., and sharp representations have been sent to him in which he has been called upon to withdraw his troops from that town. If Carranza should refuse, or fail to act in accordance with this injunction, it would be incumbent on the United States either to enforce the neutrality of Naco by the use of troops, or resort to other measures that might lead to immediate serious consequences.

There is one way that the administration could punish Carranza without resort to arms if he repudiated the agreement under which Naco's neutrality was guaranteed by the Mexican factions at the instance of the United States. This would be by shutting off his supply of arms and ammunition from the United States.

Such action may be taken by the president under the authority of a resolution passed by congress in 1913. Naco was made a neutral town because the fighting in the neighborhood menaced American life and property in Nogales.

Diplomatic advices from Mexico stated that Carranza had given notice that he would not receive commissions from or transact business with foreign governments which have no diplomatic agents accredited to his government at Vera Cruz. Enforcement of such an order practically would cut off the Carranza government from further communication with all the foreign nations which have ministers resident in Mexico City. It would rot, according to the information received, sever his informal relations with the United States government, as Carranza is understood to regard Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz as a properly accredited agent.

In official quarters the opinion prevails that the military situation in Mexico just at this time is too uncertain for any new step on the part of the United States, and the outcome of approaching conflicts between Carranza and Villa forces in central Mexico is being awaited with considerable interest.

HOSPITAL SITE COMMISSIONERS VIEW GROUNDS

The inter-county district hospital site commission was in the city again today, and was busy being taken around to see the various sites which have been brought forward since its last visit here, and looking over once more some of the sites offered at its previous meeting here.

In some instances the scope of the site commission seems to have been misinterpreted, for large and valuable tracts of land are being urged on the commission, whereas, taken in the aggregate, the instructions of the commission are to select a site which will be suitable and can be equipped at something near $25,000.

The idea is to get a piece of high dry ground, which is not too far from railway communication, one which will have sufficient acreage to help sustain the institution, and one which will lend itself to the peculiar uses to which it is to be devoted.

The general plan is to have an administration building and then erect cottages for the patients, this being considered more in line with modern ideas of sanitation in combating the disease than a large central hospital, so this at once precludes the idea of having some health resort in some of the counties, including Ross county, sold to the commission.

Many most excellent sites have been offered to the commission, and undoubtedly their decision and recommendation will be forthcoming to the general district hospital commission in a short time. — Chillicothe Gazette.
